LOCAL.

Hey there, row, Mr. Jast,

Do not 'heave the log,'

To see how fast the waves dance past;

But heave that brindle dog,

Henry Bigler, Jr., was thrown from a horse, last Sunday afternoon, but the injuries were light.

Sound Dried Beef hides wanted by Wm. Atkin, of this city, for which he will pay 7½ cents per pound, in cash.

Booth's store will give merchandise in exchange for Court Scrip, at 90 cents on the dollar.

There is to be a theater, to-night, at Leeds, under the auspices of the St. George Amateur Theatrical Co., who, by the way, are not to be sneezed at.

Say, Joe, what is the meaning of— Well, Bill, I don't know, and I can't refer you to my Dictionary, as that went with my Printing Plant.

Step into Pickett & Snow's Furniture establishment and examine the Zenith Washers. We think you will buy one as they are superior to anything now on the market.

We are in receipt of Catalogue & Price List of the Evergreen nurseries from the Evergreen Nursery Co., at Evergreen, Door Co., Wisconsin, who have the largest assortment of Evergreens in America. Parties desiring to examine the Catalogue, with a view to ordering trees, can do so by calling at our office.

The Eclipse, Tuesday night, was grand. Those at the party had a fine time in viewing the moon, during its darkness, through a fine pair of field and opera glasses, which made it very interesting.

There was a run-away in town on Monday, 2nd inst., by which Mrs. David Chidester was badly bruised and shaken up. Her young son was driving the team, when one of the lines and one of the horses switching appendages became entangled and the horse began to caper and canter off at a lively rate. The line slipped from the boy's hand, then he jumped out trying to run in ahead of the horses, to stop them, but without avail. The lady's daughter also jumped out, but by the time Mrs. Chidester tried to get out at the back end of the wagon, the horses had reached such a speed that she was thrown out on her hip. We hope her injuries are not serious, and that she will soon recover.

LATER.—We are pleased to learn, as we go to press, that Mrs. Chidester is improving nicely.

Panaca Positives.

Weather hot and sultry.

The second cutting of alfalfa is stacked.

Our small grain is all cut and partially in the stack. It shows an increase over last year's crop of many hundreds of bushels.

A cloud-burst and flood last month damaged the gardens, cellars and houses to the tune of $2,000.

There is a great deal of travel through our town to and from DeLamare which makes a little business for our merchants, and a market for our products.

Many loads of fresh fruit arrive every week from "Dixie." The "Dutch" sell what they can to the Saints and take the residue on to DeLamare.

The Phoenix Reduction Co., at Bullionville, is leaching about 30 tons of tailings daily, from which they extract about $4.50 per ton.

Our people are contemplating the construction of an immense reservoir, which when completed will furnish water for many thousand acres of land, thus furnishing homes for more people.
